PETTY THIEVING SHOPLIFTERS ARE BUSY IN GRIMSBY STORES

Three Dozen Pairs of Men's Socks Lifted at One Time—Pilferers Have Been More or Less Active for Some Time.

Local storekeepers are in a quandary as to how they can combat the small sized epidemic of petty shoplifting, that has been taking place in town, on and off, for some considerable time. All efforts to catch the sneaking thieves in the act have so far failed.

One storekeeper, early in the fall, had two of these slick artists spotted, but by the time that he notified police and the Chief arrived at his store the pilferers had disappeared. That particular pair of gentlemen has not shown up since.

Saturday night seems to be the night that they pick for their nefarious work, as nearly all the goods that have disappeared, went during the Saturday evening shopping hours, although one merchant states that he is continually losing small articles, no matter what the day or date.

On Saturday night last the thieves made a nice haul when they got away with no less than three dozen men's socks on one merchant alone, as well as other goods. They never make away with anything large, seemingly being content with the small stuff, which can be stuffed in pockets or shopping bags in a hurry.

Police are helpless to do anything in the matter, for to have a uniformed constable standing around a store, during busy hours, would be just like putting a sign board out, that the cops were on the job. Just how the merchants can eventually trap the miscreants is a hard one to figure out, as no doubt they are working in pairs and when a merchant and his staff are busy, it is quite an easy matter to lift a lot of small items from the tables or counters unseen.

About the only way that these pilferers will be caught, will be for the merchants to hire store detectives that are unknown and this costs money. It is a problem that is giving them a lot of worry.

Action Is Urged on Fruit Growers

H. L. Craise Warns That Protection to Growers May Be Lost If Tariff Revised.

"Fruitgrowers should be advised that unless some action is taken at once in prevention, all our protection by way of seasonal tariff and dump duties will be done away with by a proposed revision of the present trade agreement with the United States," declared H. L. Craise, of Louth, speaking in St. Catharines on Saturday morning.

"If this goes into effect," said Mr. Craise, "it means that the United States price plus freight sets the price for fruit for processing in Canada, and had that been the case this year instead of the processors paying 2 5/8 cents per pound for their peaches, the price paid by the canner would not have exceeded 1 3/4 cents per pound, making a difference this year of approximately $75,000 and to a much greater extent in a light year crop."

"If the growers want this situation to prevail all along the line they should just keep quiet and that is just exactly what will happen," Mr. Craise emphatically declared.

"As this is the opinion of those close to the situation I felt it my duty to pass the information along. I am suggesting that the Fruit Growers Association that they arrange meetings where growers may express opinions in the matter."

Our Weekly "BOOST"

We are now approaching the Christmas season when everybody will try and make someone else happy with some kind of a yuletide gift.

Men's Club Hear Fine Address

Rev. Neil Leckie Speaks on "The Red Sea, And Other Strange Places" — G. L. Eaton Introduces Unusual Feature.

At the meeting of the Men's Service Club of St. Andrew's Church held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening, Mr. Eaton and his choir of young men contributed four part songs to the programme, the old English "Drink to me only with thine eyes," giving special pleasure. The whistling chorus to the "Farmer's Boy" was an unusual feature, and was made more interesting by Mr. Eaton's remarks on the art of human whistling.

The Secretary, Mr. R. C. Bourne, announced the names of a number of gentlemen who are to give addresses to the club in the course of the winter months, and the first of these was the Rev. Neil M. Leckie, whose theme for the evening was the phrase "The Red Sea, and other strange places."

Dr. Leckie explained that what was meant by the "Red Sea" in this title was not the body of water so named, but that this expression was at one time used in England to indicate the unconsecrated plot in a churchyard, in which were buried those who died outside the pale of the Church. He recalled an eighteenth century incident in which the ghost of an unbaptized child had troubled a neighbourhood till the vicar of the parish gave his consent to have the body interred in the so-called Red Sea.

From this as a starting point the speaker dealt with various other features of English Churches, the windows, the Lectern, the Chancel, the Sanctuary, the Belfry, and in doing so he acknowledged a debt to the poet, par excellence, of the Church of England, George Herbert. In speaking of the Church Windows he quoted Herbert's parable in which the minister becomes a window through which Heaven's light must enter the lives of those who hear. He recalled the verses of Arthur Hugh Clough which finds in the stained glass windows a likeness to the Gospels, mentioning also a pleasant blunder made by an eminent Canadian clergyman, who, in the preparation of a

Public Taken In By Salesman

Smooth Talking Stranger Sells Local People Fake Portrait Certificates—Chief On His Trail.

The gullible public is still easy prey to the smooth talking stranger, that sells them something for nothing.

Chief DeMille informs The Independent that during the past week another one of these slick artists has been operating in the Grimsby district. This time a portrait picture racket.

The Chief first secured information on this gentleman's activities when the Connaught Studios, of Hamilton, a legitimate concern that does colored portrait work, notified him that there was a man by the name of Don Allen, operating in Grimsby, and passing himself off as one of their representatives. The Chief investigated, and found that Allen had made several calls upon local residents and in each case had received 50c a picture from them and in return gave them a certificate on the Connaught studios.

His plan is a simple one. He raps at the door of a house and asks the housewife if she would like to have some photographs of the family enlarged and colored. If she thought it would be a good idea, she paid him 50c a picture. He would then give her a Certificate for each picture. This Certificate had to be presented to the Connaught studios, when another $1.00 per picture would be paid and the work done.

Connaught Studios claim that they have no legal representative working in this district by the name of Allen at the present time. Chief DeMille has not caught up with Mr. Allen as yet, but he requests all citizens to telephone him immediately, if any person calls on them and attempts to sell them on the portrait scheme.

In order that no person shall be the loser through Allen's perfidy, the Connaught Studios will honor all certificates presented.

Christmas Edition

The Independent's annual Christmas edition will be published on Thursday next, December 16th. It will contain an unusually comprehensive shopping guide of Grimsby stores and it should stimulate citizens to patronize local merchants who have made every provision to cater to their needs in the way of Christmas gifts. Merchants are asked to have their advertisements in our office by Monday next in order to facilitate the publication of this special issue.

Police Round Up A Tough Gang

Capture Three Men And A Woman Who Are Badly Wanted By Toronto Police.

At four o'clock this morning, an automobile containing three men and a woman, drove into the West End Motors and asked for five gallons of gas. The night attendant put the gas in the tank, but before he could get to the front of the car to collect his money, the party rapidly drove away. Constable Turner was called but the attendant had failed to take the number of the car, but was able to give the officer a good description of the people. Turner in the police cruiser, made a tour of the town and then drove east on the highway. At the cemetery gates he spotted a car pulling up at the side of the road. He stopped, and upon approaching the car, found that the people answered the description given him. He lodged the party in the cells and found that the driver, "Lefty" Robinson, 21, of Toronto, had no driver's permit. He admitted that the car had been stolen in Toronto, and that after leaving the gas station they had driven to Smithville and then to Beamsville and then up the highway.

The other members of the party were Reta Moreau, Cecil Dickenson and Harold Furesdson, all with records, and being hunted by Toronto Police. The Moreau woman, was connected with the big bank robbery case in Hull, Que., about a year and a half ago. Toronto detectives took the quartette back to the Queen City this afternoon. They were loud in their praise, of the good work of the local police.

Road Matters at County Council

Lincoln County Council Tuesday afternoon passed this resolution: "That this council is of the opinion that as county roads No. 1, Haldimand; No. 8, Lincoln, and No. 2, Welland, form a very much shorter and more direct route from Canboro to Niagara Falls than any other route and is gradually attracting increasing traffic to the extent beyond the ability of county road specifications, we therefore respectfully request the conversion of the above roads into a King's highway."

Frank E. Weir, county road superintendent, in his annual report presented to the council, said: "I think the Department of Highways is to be commended upon the high standard which they have set for the new provincial highway, both as to construction and safety. They are also to be commended upon the manner of construction. The deep ditches are being graded well in advance of other work. In this way, settlement has a chance to take place before the pavement is put down."

Mr. Weir recommended that the short piece of road at the north end of 9N to the new highway and on 13N from Beamsville station north to the new highway be added to the county road system and the grades to be widened to conform with county roads specifications.

Do You Remember? PRIZE CONTEST

Ox teams have not been a familiar sight in this district for over 40 years, yet our picture, this week, is far from being that ancient. It was taken in the immediate vicinity and all the men were local residents. Can you tell us who they are?

Canadian Legion

The Annual Meeting of West Lincoln Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will be held at Duham's Restaurant, Grimsby Beach Road and No. 8 Highway, on the evening of Wednesday, December 15th, 1937, at 8:00 p.m., when officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The following comrades are the present officers of the branch: Immediate Past President—Fred Jewson; President—Jack Jenkins; First Vice-President—C. B. H. Croft; Second Vice-President—George Spencer; Secretary—Tasur—H. Fonger; Treasurer—Poppy Fund—E. S. Johnson; Chairman—Poppy Fund—Fred Jewson; Auditors—Col. W. W. Johnson and E. H. Coleman; and the following Executive Committee: Comrades George Warner, Grimsby; George Shewers, Beamsville; Fred Jones, Winona; Rev. C. Flock, Vineland.

At the last regular meeting held on November 17th, the advisability of giving a dance, was considered. It was decided that on account of the Coronation Dance, held in May of this year having been so popular, that an Annual Dance would be held each year about the same time, or so that it would coincide as to time with Blossom week.

A PERTINENT FACT ABOUT GRIMSBY

Grimsby Water Commission has 58,775 lineal feet of water mains ranging in size from three-quarters of an inch, up to 10 inches, or approximately 11 and one-seventh miles of pipe. There are 73 fire hydrants. 74 commercial users of water, 18 industrial users and 580 domestic services. These figures do not include North Grimsby water system. The average monthly gallonage pumped for the 11 months of 1937 was 7,258,363 gallons.

Mrs. W. H. Groce Gets Appointment

To Be County Representative on Newly Organized Old Age Pensions Board—Untiring Relief Worker.

Reeve E. S. Johnson, informed The Independent, last night, that at Wednesday's session of county council, Mrs. W. H. Groce of Grimsby, had been appointed as a county representative on the Mother's Allowance and Old Age Pension's Board.

Under a new set-up by the Provincial government, which goes into effect at the beginning of the year, the county only has two members on this board instead of five as heretofore. The other three members which will comprise the board will be appointed by the government. W. H. Richardson, of Merritt, for a great number of years a member of the board, is the other county appointment.

Mrs. Groce is well and favorably known throughout the peninsula for her untiring work along relief and welfare lines, and her appointment is one that will no doubt meet with favor. She is the daughter of the late Pelham and Mrs. Falconbridge, for many years prominent Grimsby residents, and a niece of the late chief Justice Falconbridge.

Anniversary At St. John's Church

Rev. R. Allan Cranston, B.A., Delivers Two Forceful Sermons to Large Congregations.

St. John's Presbyterian Church held its Anniversary services on Sunday last when Rev. A. Allan Cranston, B.A. of Welland, was the speaker at both services.

The beautifully rendered music by guest singers and special numbers by the choir under the leadership of Mr. S. E. Wharton, together with two eloquent sermons by the speaker, made the day one long to be remembered.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Cranston spoke on Man's Aim and Purpose in Life and in the evening, preaching to a capacity audience, he gave an uplifting and comforting message on how to leave a memorial to our name, no matter how lowly our station, or how limited our talent, choosing for his text Verse 15 from the 9th chapter of Ecclesiastes: "Now there was found in it a certain poor man who delivered the city; yet no one remembered that same poor man."

Rev. H. Merritt of Grimsby Baptist Church read the scripture from 10th Chapter of Ecclesiastes and Rev. B. Ferris of Trinity United Church offered prayer, at the evening worship, when the services of both Trinity United and Grimsby Baptist were withdrawn in order that the congregations might join with St. John's in their special services. Rev. I. B. Kaine exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Cranston at Welland.

JUDGE STANBURY MAKES HIS AWARD ON COUNTY ASSESSMENT EQUALIZATION

Grimsby Assessment Increased $7,543 — North Grimsby Gets a Reduction of $183,107 — New Award Only Increases County Rate For Town $15 a Year — All Appealing Municipalities Were Increased — Costs of Hearing Will Be Heavy.

After dragging along for over a year, Lincoln county equalization of assessment, has finally been adjusted, by the handing down of the finding of Judge J. G. S. Stanbury, after many days of argument by legal counsel and the taking of much evidence by valuers. In making his award, a chapter has been closed in county assessment history that had its beginning early in 1936, when county council passed a new assessment bylaw. Five municipalities, Grimsby, Beamsville, South Grimsby, Gainsboro and Caistor were not satisfied with the equalization figures and appealed against the bylaw. By the time this point was reached it was impossible for Judge Stanbury to hear the case before the end of the year and as a consequence, a special act of the provincial legislature had to be secured in order to hear the appeals during 1937.

County council appointed Messrs H. G. Mogg and A. T. Quinlan as county valuers. Other municipalities also appointed valuers. After many adjournments the hearing finally got under way in October. The county and the various municipalities were represented by no less than eight legal counsellors.

In his award, some of the municipalities received increases and some decreases, in their assessment. Grimsby town is increased $7,543, over the last tax levy assessment. This amount Reeve Johnson states will only amount to about $15 per year on the county rate. On the other hand North Grimsby receives a decrease of $183,107 in its assessment.

All the five municipalities that appealed against the assessment were increased varying amounts,

Wants Action On Street Agreement

Nothing Done Yet By Town Council on Main Street Agreement Presented Last Winter.

Early this year, there was presented to Town Council a new agreement governing Main street, by the Ontario Department of Highways. After reading the agreement over and discussing it to some extent, it was laid over for future consideration. Nothing has been done with it since.

Now Councillor Dick wants the Council to take some action in the matter and get it cleaned up before the end of the year. It is likely that it will come up again for discussion at the Council meeting on Wednesday night next.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, it is understood, the department would take care of all snow cleaning and sanding operations, charging the municipality for 50 per cent. of the cost. The street, now known as a connecting link of highway No. 8, would become part of the provincial highway, and government would have the right to collect gasoline pump tax from service station operators and owners of private pumps within a certain distance of the road and also the right to collect a tax on certain types of signs.

Whether the department would take care of any necessary pavement repairs for the full width of the street or only on the centre portion, which was formerly the right-of-way for the old H. G. & B. radial line, could not be learned. It will be recalled that the highways department attempted to collect the gas pump tax from all Main street service stations a couple of years ago. Two or three operators paid the tax without question, but the remainder refused, on the grounds they were already paying local business tax.

Winona Rector Is Honored

The members and adherents of St. John's Anglican Church, Winona and many friends of Rev. R. N. and Mrs. Lowe gathered on Wednesday evening of last week in the Institute hall, to bid farewell to this highly esteemed couple, who leave shortly to reside in Hamilton.

The resignation of Rev. Mr. Lowe was received with regret, owing to ill health.

Senator E. D. Smith was the chairman, and the evening's entertainment opened with community singing led by Miss Audrey Gildon. Mr. Lowe was made the recipient of a well-filled purse, the presentation being made by C. J. Bradshaw and A. Colebrook, wardens of the church while Sandra Biggar and Sylvia Hanson presented to Mrs. Lowe, a basket of roses on behalf of the W. A. and the Guild.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe in accepting the gifts, asked that they give their new rector the same co-operation which they had received. Rev. F. Manning brought good wishes from the Fifty United church members.

Our Weekly "KNOCK"

Those people who complain that local stores do not carry a sufficient stock of reasonable merchandise are generally those who do not visit the stores to find out.

It would be only fair to our merchants to do this before deciding to purchase gift out-of-town.

WHO GETS THE CHRISTMAS TRADE?

The Canadian people probably spend more money in the three weeks before Christmas, than they do in any six weeks of the year at other times. That Christmas money is a great big plum, rich and juicy with prosperity.

Who is going to get that plum around Grimsby? If it goes to the home merchants, they deserve it, because they are laying in splendid stocks of everything you need. The money spent at home will largely continue to circulate there, making more jobs and producing more welfare in the town. If a large slice of that money goes elsewhere, its benefits are all lost to our home town.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Particularly at this season of the year it is highly desirable to instruct your drivers regarding the dangers of carbon monoxide gas. It is colourless, odourless, tasteless and ruthless. The following instructions are recommended:

1. Never leave the motor running while sleeping, or even resting, in the cab of a standing vehicle.
2. When in a garage, keep garage doors open when motor is running.
3. Make sure you get fresh air while driving. Take a minutes or two, every hour, out of the car on long runs in winter.
4. Check exhaust and heater systems for leaks.
5. Keep floor boards and mats tight and in safe condition against exhaust fumes.

The symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning may come on suddenly, but usually there are warning sensations, such as headache, throbbing of the temples, ringing in the ears, faintness, dizziness and vomiting. Be sure your car is properly ventilated — never take a chance with carbon monoxide gas.

AFTER THE ACCIDENT

With thousands killed and injured annually in automobile accidents, everyone who drives a car must face the possibility that some day he will be involved in one of these deplorable mishaps. How will one behave in that moment of strain, and will his conduct get him into still deeper trouble?

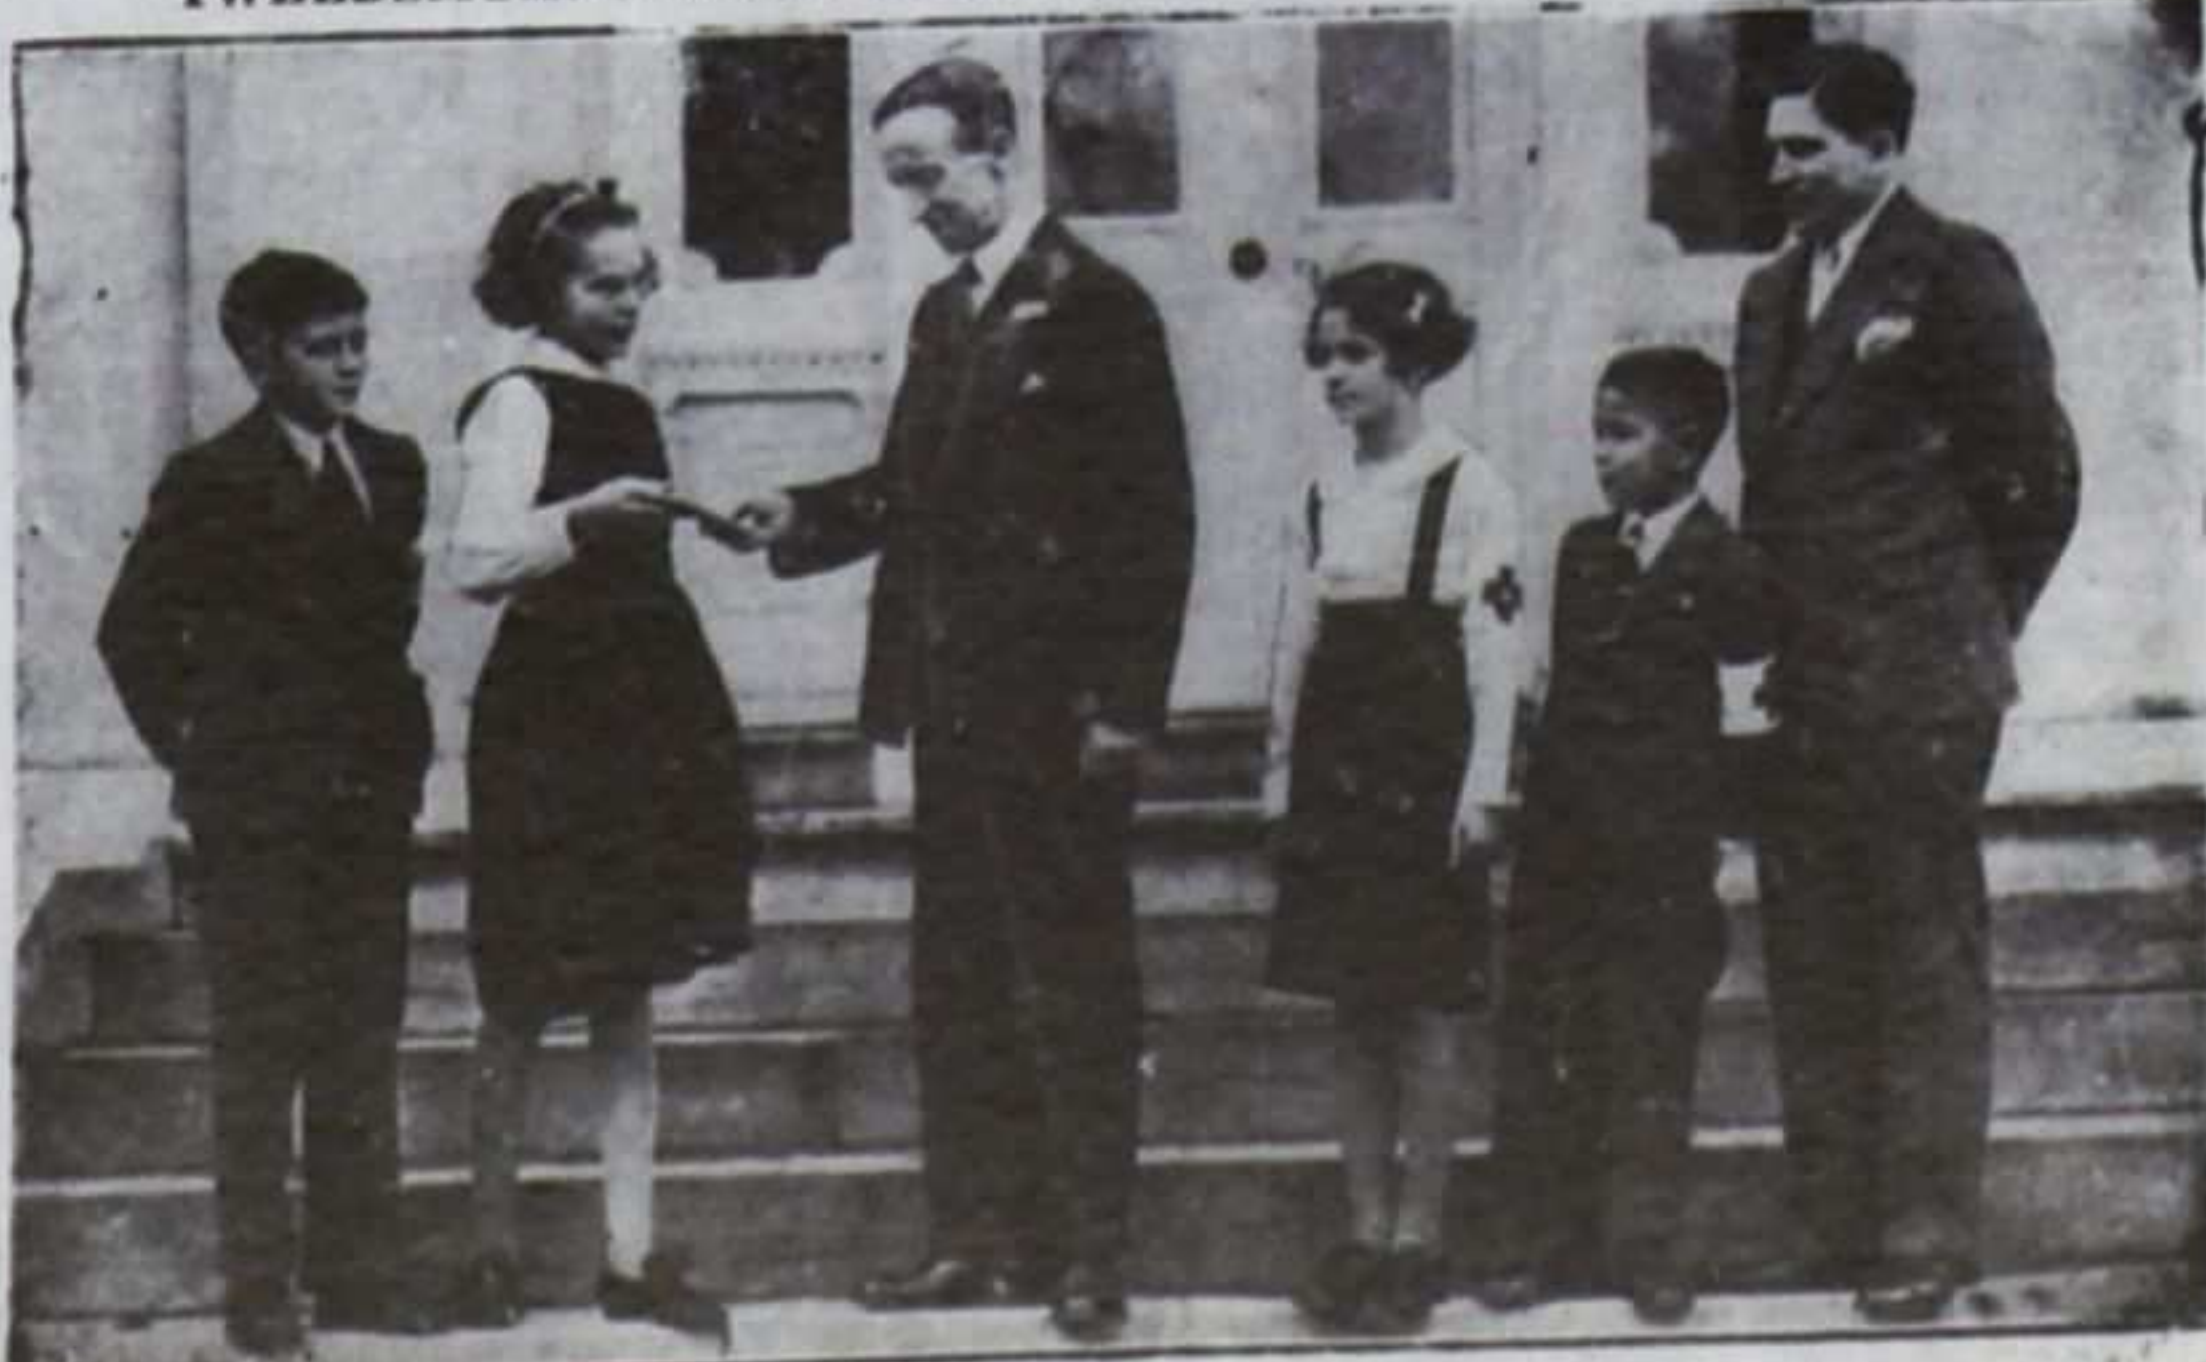

There are severe penalties for the "hit and run" motorists. The public approves of such treatment for all who are involved in such a disaster, and who refuse to face the music, and do the best they can to make up for the harm which they may have caused.

It is only common courtesy and it is far safer, in even the slightest accident, for the drivers involved to stop their cars and find out just what damage was done. Usually after such a mishap, there is a scene of hot talk, and each party blames the other for the smash.

It does no good for people to lose their tempers. The madder they get, the more excited the other party will become, and the greater the chance of a prolonged fight over damages.

If anybody is injured, both parties should give up all other plans and engagements and devote themselves to the job of getting the injured persons to the nearest hospital or their homes at the earliest possible moment. In any case, people must be prepared to tell the truth. The wilder claims they make to police officers, the more likely their story is to be discounted and regarded as untruthful.

TWEEDSMUIR GIVES A BOOST TO JUNIOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

With a friendly greeting and a pleasant reassuring smile for an audience which consists of English, French, Greek and Chinese children, Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, inaugurates the Junior Red Cross calendar campaign to raise funds

CHRISTMAS ADVERTISING

As Christmas approaches, the newspapers blossom out with a crowd of ads. They will probably carry a greater volume of advertising during the present December than ever before in any single month. Without such announcements of the things the stores are offering, the styles that will prevail, the prices that will be asked, these concerns could not possibly expect to work off the enormous stocks they have assembled in anticipation of the holiday.

If these advertisers find such advertising necessary to sell their stocks, why is it not equally necessary for all who have things to sell?

HOLIDAY GIVING

Do people spend too much money on Christmas gifts? Some people think so, and say that in many cases these gifts represent a kind of trade, which givers and receivers would gladly terminate, were it not for the fear of giving offense.

If you could ask all your friends how far they would like to abandon this custom, few of them would seek any change. They would say they make these offerings purely from free will, and get more pleasure out of them than in buying things for themselves.

In former ages of history, gifts were offered largely to buy favor and friendly relations. In early colonial days gifts played a large part in winning the favor of the Indians. If some colony was niggardly in these gifts, the red warriors became sour, and in a mood to go on the warpath and seek out some gory paleface scalps.

Some people offer gifts in that spirit today, but favor bought with gifts usually dries up when the memory of the gift grows stale. It is one of the signs of world progress, that now as a usual thing gifts represent real friendship and love. The heart of the world is growing bigger. Its principal regret at the Christmas season is that there are still very many for whom Christmas brings little good cheer and happiness. Our Christmas giving will not be all it should be, until such ones are remembered and given their share of happiness.

Editorial Notes

They used to say home is where the heart is. Now it seems to be the place where people sleep.

To produce a good home town, you must have good home business. How are you going to have it, if you spend your money elsewhere?

It may be a sign you are growing fat, if you can't wear last year's clothes. May be more dangerous sign if you can't wear last year's hat.

The progressive merchants, big and not so big, are preparing for the Christmas business. The careful and thrifty buyer should give heed to the same important matter.

Municipal representatives are now on their good behaviour. The public is being told how economically they have been served during the year now approaching the end.

The prevalent notion that the average citizen is handicapped by lack of ready cash was more or less dissipated by publication of figures showing that Ontario racetrack followers wagered $13,000,000 on the races during the 1937 season.

Gasoline is taking on something of the proportions of a gold mine for governments. Last year, the provincial governments across Canada collected thirty-four and one-half million dollars in gas tax, the motorist paying as tax, an average of 6.36 cents gallon.

The Honourable C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, announced last week that 4,608 loans amounting to $1,554,042.99 had been made up to October 30 under the Home Improvement Plan for improvement to farms. Loans in Ontario greatly exceeded those in other Provinces, with Alberta coming second and Quebec third.

"American radio is on the spot. Complaints from the public are gathering momentum. Advertisements are daily broadcast which no self-respecting newspaper would print. The news commentators are also under fire. A tremendously valuable invention is being perverted into a public nuisance and on this side of the border, too."—St. Catharines Standard.

BLOOD STAINS AND CRIME—

Burning will no longer help criminals to hide blood stains. Three famous men of science, Drs. Jesse L. Carr, Frederick Proeschner and A. N. Moody announced the other day that they have conducted a vast number of experiments during a two years period, and they have discovered that blood could not only be fully identified even when heated to 200 degrees or more but that heating of the blood actually offers one of the best means to blood identification. This ends once and for all time the usefulness of fire to criminals who imagine that it is possible to commit a "perfect" crime and hide it by means of burning the supposed evidence.

COLDS AND CHINA—

Canadians will soon feel the effects of the war in China because there is only a limited stock in the Dominion of certain Chinese drugs which are used in the preparation of ephedrine that forms a common prescription given by all physicians for the alleviation of colds, hay fever and asthma. Ephedrine is an old drug that came into being in 1877 when it was isolated from another well-known Chinese drug, Ma Huang, which has been in use by the Western world for a number of centuries. This drug shrinks the nasal passage bringing relief to sufferers. The main source of supply of ephedrine is China in the section of Tientsin where the disturbance is great, and consequently, the current crop have been destroyed and it is extremely difficult to import the product into the Dominion.

NEW ANAESTHETIC GAS—

A new anaesthetic gas which is administered with oxygen and which will be in general use soon is cyclopropane. This gas was first used in operative work in 1933 by Dr. Ralph A. Waters, one of the leading anaesthetists on the continent, but it was not in general use until recently when he discovered this new preparation, Drs. Henderson and Lucas of the University of Toronto demonstrated a new method which permits its general use in surgery. The main features of cyclopropane are rapid induction into a state of unconsciousness, quiet respiration during the operative period, protection from surgical shock, and a minimum of nausea during the recovery.

THOSE NOISY WEDDINGS

The custom of celebrating a wedding by driving through the streets in cars decorated with white ribbons and with noise-makers such as tin cans attached, has gained wide vogue, and while it is generally regarded as a nuisance, the authorities in most communities are loath to interfere with this manifestation of hilarity on the ground that a marriage justifies a certain degree of departure from staid and orderly conduct. However, the overzeal of some of the participants in these parades is creating the foundation for police interference. The continuous tooting of automobile horns and the clatter of noise-makers cause annoyance to citizens who are not interested in the wedding, and complaints are becoming more numerous. It is only a matter of time until most communities will order that these celebrations be discontinued. —Galt Reporter.

A BIG ADVANTAGE

That country young people have an advantage over city folks in choosing wives is the contention of A. Walker, C.P.R. General Freight Agent of Toronto. Says he: "In the country young ladies have been raised with the young men of their community. They know whether or not they are good workers; whether or not they will be good providers; they know their dispositions and their habits, and they have a keen appreciation of the young men's problems."

WHEN I AM OLD

Ere I am old I'll leave the city,
And sit in the sun of a garden plot,
Far from all envy, blame and pity,
Glad and contented with my lot.

There will I watch my flowers grow fairer;

There will I hear the songs of birds;
And, it may be, a music rarer—
The lit of laughter and loving words.

Ere I am old, I'll leave the rattle
Of mart and 'change, and their greed and strife,
And I'll turn, as a man who has fought his battle,
To the lovelier things of a peaceful life.

Ere I am old!—Ah me! how many Who builded thus for the years ahead

Have stayed and schemed for the last base penny—
Has schemed till they and their dreams were dead!

—Ernest H. A. Home.

A tribute to the late Will Rogers in the form of this statue has just been completed by Guy B. de Val, noted Ottawa sculptor. The 12-foot figure pictures the late actor "sitting on top of the world." The sculpture will rest in a prominent place in Hollywood. Mr. de Val is shown beside his work.

Away Back When

By FRANK FAIRBORN Jr.

MY GOOD friend George Wilson, an old Grimsby boy, now in the shipping department of the Fleury plow works at Aurora, informs me that the Fleury Co. still manufactures plow shares for the Grout plow. He believes that there are a large number of these plows still in use in Southwestern Ontario, judging from the number of shares that are shipped out every year.

DECEMBER 1912, and from reading the advertisements in The Independent for the issues of that month, Grimsby was preparing for a real joyful yuletide. As usual at rush seasons of the year the service on the H. G. & B. was terrible. In fact the Saturday before Christmas it was completely demoralized. Christmas that year fell on a Wednesday.

High winds prevailed during the first part of the month and considerable property damage resulted. Smokestacks were blown down, roofs ripped off freight cars and electric power was off for several hours on different days. Warden Craize (of Louth) held the Warden's annual banquet in St. Catharines. A suggestion was made in Ottawa that King George V and President Woodrow Wilson shake hands across the International border at Niagara Falls, at the 100 years of Peace Celebration, in 1914. Beautiful pianos for Christmas gifts were advertised at $100. Lincoln County council sat in session for 10 days. The boys needed the fees.

Last meeting of the year for 1912 was held. Fire Chief Walker complained that heads of other village departments were using the fire hall for a store room and it was almost impossible to get the fire apparatus in and out. E. S. Johnson was reeve and his council was Wm. Mitchell, W. F. Randall, Hugh D. Walker and somebody else whose name does not appear in the report of the meeting. Cataract Power Co. having made and broken a dozen promises to the council re better street lighting, council decide to lay a complaint before the Municipal Board. The Old Town Hall was a paying concern, showing receipts for the year of $87.67. Depot street had just been given a new coating of crushed stone. Council unanimously endorsed the fight that The Independent was waging against the H. G. & B. for better service.

North Grimsby council held an all day session, with Murray B. Smith in the reeve's chair. His council was J. H. Alway, N. R. Sutherland, Hamilton Fleming and W. W. Beamer. All these men are deceased except Mr. Beamer. Thos. W. Allen was clerk. A plan to subdivide a certain portion of Grimsby Beach was submitted by H. H. Wylie and approved by council. Township council also backed up The Independent in its H. G. & B. fight.

Stoney Creek residents were all in a flutter, over the discovery of a nude woman, headless, on a farm two miles north of the village. It was later found out, that the body was that of a Mrs. Henderson, from Burlington Beach, who had disappeared from her home several years previous.

It's so much easier to shop by TELEPHONE...

On wet days and snowy days, on days when there is so much housework to be done, on days when you aren't feeling up to scratch yourself or when one of the youngsters is ailing, it's great to be able to shop by telephone. And on fine days too, and when everything else is going right, it saves you an endless amount of tiresome traipsing around. Make the telephone your market basket.

DECORATE FOR CHRISTMAS—

WITH the season's first light snowfall over the weekend, everyone has become Christmas-conscious, and not a bit too soon either, for the time will soon fly around to the holiday season when we will be welcoming native sons and daughters to the town, some of whom perhaps only get home once a year. Christmas is the season when, as far as possible the entire family gathers for this festive occasion.

It has been customary for many years to invest the spirit of Christmas in our homes with Yuletide decorations, but during the past few years, some citizens have carried this gay decorative scheme outside their homes where all may enjoy them, and what a glorious sight it makes to holiday-seekers passing through the district, as well as our citizens.

Last year, to mention only a few of the outstanding ones in our own district, were the beautiful displays at the residences of Mrs. Hamilton Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Moll, Clovelly, the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Way, and Mr. J. P. Mantle. People drove especially to view these gorgeous sights. Mrs. Fleming's home was a blazing design of varied colored lights from top to bottom; the windows of Clovelly gave out a cheery Yuletide spirit, with beautiful lighted holly wreaths in every window and the windows and hedges outside the Moll and Mantle residences were a glorified picture of Christmasy hues.

What a breath-taking picture this would make if every home in Grimsby would follow this idea—what a glorious sight, if every home in the Niagara Peninsula entered into this decorative scheme. The cities to our south wholeheartedly have done just this the past few years, and prizes are given for the best displays.

Something fairly new this year is the idea of silvered Christmas trees, which, when arrayed with colored lights, sparkle like sun on the snow and have a most realistic appearance. Bows, covered in the same manner, to wreath the windows and doorways, may also be had for a very small price.

So let us bid welcome to Santa Claus this year in Grimsby with a bigger and better Yuletide spirit and make our visitors feel the warmth of the Christmas season when they arrive to spend the holidays.

THE CHRISTMAS PUDDING—

There is more than one way to make a Christmas pudding and here is a fine example of the best recipe, one which satisfies the soul:

Take some human-nature as you find it—
The commonest variety will do;
Put a little graciousness behind it,
Add a lump of charity—or two.
Squeeze in just a drop of moderation,
Half as much frugality—or less,
Add some very fine consideration,
Strain off all of poverty's distress.
Pour some milk of human kindness in it,
Put in all the happiness you can;
Stir it up with laughter every minute,
Season it with good-will toward every man.
Set it on the fire of heart's affection,
Leave it till the jolly bubbles rise,
Sprinkle it with kisses—for confection,
Sweeten with a look from loving eyes,
Flavor it with children's merry chatter,
Frost it on a holly-garnished platter,
And serve it with the song of Christmas bells.

On the other hand, we must also satisfy our stomachs, and we give you the recipe of an old English pudding, used by the chefs of the Canadian National Railways, who made a ton to be served to travellers this Christmas, working only in the tiny kitchen. We give you the recipe in proportion—a family size pudding, making two and a half pounds, ten generous individual portions:

Ingredients— $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. Bread Crumbs; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. Beef Suet; 2 oz. Flour; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. Brown Sugar; 2 oz. Mixed Peel; Pinch Salt; $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon Baking Soda; Grated Rind and Juice of Half a Lemon; $\frac{1}{4}$ Pt. Milk; 3 Eggs; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Sultanas; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Raisins; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Currants; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. Cinnamon; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. Nutmeg; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. All-spice; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Brandy.

Procedure—Mix the dry ingredients together thoroughly, then add the beaten eggs, milk and brandy, and mix all together thoroughly. Grease inside of pudding bowl or covered mould to prevent pudding from sticking. If pudding bowl used, cover bowl with floured gauze tied tightly around bowl to keep moisture away from pudding. Boil pudding for three hours. Heat thoroughly before serving, then unmould on dish. Serve with sprig of holly on top.

Serve with either Hard or Custard Sauce, made as follows:—

HINTS ON FASHIONS

— BY LYBETH —

THIS SEASON'S EVENING MODEL IS IN GAY AND YOUTHFUL MOOD WHETHER IT'S SLIM OR WIDE SILHOUETTE

Women in Paris and in America, too, are dining in pencil-slim frocks of silk, velvet, satin or wool. Usually they dance in dresses whose skirts are wide and swaying, especially the younger members of the fair sex.

V necklines are probably the most often seen. But there are many other styles. And shoulders are covered or left bare also as a matter of taste. The full-length sleeve for any kind of formal wear is always a high style. Most women find the short, elbow-length or sleeveless models more comfortable and becoming.

The Peasant Type Again

The drindl or peasant styling which we have been prating about for months is the dress shown, from Stein and Blaine. It is made of soft, brocaded blue material. The hips are kept slim and smooth, and the skirt is gathered at the hip and shirred on to the bodice section. It emphasizes the slender waistline. The cowl neckline is girlish and becoming.

When you choose a dinner dress, whether it be floor-length for formal dining, or street length, be very sure that the part of you that shows above the dinner table is distinctive. It may be so in a number of ways, so choose the one best suited to your type. But you must look charming above the waist.

Hard Sauce—Ingredients— $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Butter; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Powdered Sugar. Procedure—Mix butter and sugar until the mixture becomes snow white; add a few drops of lemon extract. Roll in wax paper, place in refrigerator until hard. Cut in slices. Serve slice on top of Plum Pudding.

Custard Sauce—Ingredient—2 Eggs; $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Powdered Sugar; 2 cups Milk; 2 tablespoons Corn Starch.

Procedure—Beat up eggs, corn starch, sugar together thoroughly; add milk; beat together again. Place in double boiler. Allow mixture to become hot at same time beating it up to prevent it from becoming lumpy. Add few drops vanilla extract. Allow mixture to thicken. Serve hot over pudding.

If it is desired to serve brandy with pudding, unmould pudding on dish, place sprig of holly on top of pudding, pour brandy around base, light brandy with match.

Habits to Health

THE COMMON COLD

Bernard Fantus, M.D., authority for the therapeutic wisdom of the Cook County Hospital, Chicago, says that it is impossible to draw a sharp distinction between common colds, grippe and influenza. He calls the entire group "catarrhal fever".

All of these are caused, it is believed, by some sort of filtrable virus, that is a germ so small that it passes through the finest of filters and is, of course, not seen under the most powerful microscope. Fall, winter and spring are the seasons for colds. Perhaps no other malady is responsible for so many days' loss from work or for so much individual discomfort.

In the ordinary course of one's life it is almost impossible to avoid "catching cold" or influenza when the latter is about. The important matter is to care for a cold or other catarrhal infection when once such a thing is acquired. Most of the untoward results of the catarrhal affections have been due to the person's staying "on the job" when he should have been in bed. In the influenza epidemic of 1918-19, it was the universal experience that fatalities were largely confined to those who kept going about in the early stages of the complaint.

The best thing for a person who has a cold or any of the catarrhal conditions is to go to bed at once and to stay there until the cold is broken.

Treatment should be in the hands of the doctor but there is one thing the patient should have. That is lots of water either in the form of water itself or as lemonade or orangeade. A half tumblerful every hour when awake is not too much.

The complications of the catarrhs are the things to be feared. Among these are inflammation of the middle ear, of the mastoid, sinus trouble, bronchitis and pneumonia. Few die from the catarrhal affections as such. Coddling treatment is the best preventive of the complications, so your business man, professor and hard worker, with colds are advised at once to go to bed and be coddled.

ST. ANDREW'S W. A. TEA AT MRS. THOS. LIDDLE'S

Last Friday afternoon, the members of St. Andrew's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary entertained their friends most pleasantly at the home of Mrs. Thos. Liddle, "Rossmore", on the occasion of their Annual Tea and Sale of Work.

Mrs. F. Wheeler presided at the Home Sewing and Handicrafts Table, and Mrs. F. Burton was in charge of the Candy Table.

Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums adorned the tea table where Mrs. R. L. Taylor dispensed cheering cups of tea, assisted by Mrs. A. B. Bourne, Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. J. Johnson, Miss E. Softley and Miss Mary Liddle.

More than three-fourths of the United States is sleeping land.

Wedding

NELLES-SMITH

St. Andrew's Anglican Church was filled to capacity with friends for the picturesque wedding which was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the rector, Rev. J. Allan Ballard, when Edna Jane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Smith, of Grimsby, became the bride of Leslie George Nelles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Nelles, also of Grimsby, in a ceremony which united two very popular members of Grimsby's younger set. A profusion of chrysanthemums, ferns and palms, formed a lovely setting for the marital vows.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Norman Nelles, wore a graceful gown of white velvet, cut on princess lines, with a long train falling from the shoulders. Her veil of white net was caught with clusters of orange blossoms to form a cap effect, and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. Gilbert Wade, as matron of honour, was gowned in mauve moire and carried a bouquet of Briarcliff roses, while the bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Pettit, was wearing green moire and carried yellow roses. Little Sandra Sims, as flower girl, wore a frock in yellow moire, made on lines similar to the senior attendants, with a Juliet cap of pearls, and she carried an old-fashioned nosegay. The best man was Mr. Gilbert Wade of Grimsby and the ushers were Mr. Malcolm Nelles and Mr. Hugh Whyte, also of Grimsby. Mr. T. L. Dymond presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Mrs. Clive S. Bean effectively rendered the solo, "O Perfect Love."

A reception followed at the residence of Mrs. H. L. Roberts, Main Highway West, when Mrs. Roberts assisted in receiving, wearing a becoming gown of black velvet. The groom's mother, Mrs. Leslie Nelles, was in blue and grey cut velvet.

Annual Meeting Of Trinity W. A.

The annual meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church was held in the church parlor on Thursday, December 2nd. Very gratifying reports of the year's activities were received.

The election of officers for the new year was presided over by Rev. R. B. Farris, resulting as follows: Mrs. T. R. Hunter, President; Mrs. Baxter, 1st Vice; Miss Doran, 2nd Vice; Mrs. E. U. Patterson, 3rd Vice; Miss Olive Kitchener, Secretary; Mrs. E. L. Stonehouse, Treasurer; Mrs. Frank Merritt, Pianist.

Conveners for the various committees are as follows: Social, Mrs. W. McNiven; Kitchen, Mrs. O. M. Pettit; Manse, Mrs. Murray Beamer; Quilt, Mrs. P. E. Willina; Flower, Mrs. James Theal with a committee composed of Mrs. H. J. Clarry, Mrs. W. Pizer and Mrs. J. R. Smith.

Black Frock Distinctive

ELEGANT simplicity is the keynote of this little frock which was inspired, strange to say, by a recent book written by Sara 'ennoyer', titled, "Polly Tucker, Merchant." The dress is just such as the chic young heroine of the book would choose.

The book (in case you are curious) is about a girl who makes fashions her career and is successful.

The dress has many possibilities for changes of accessories. It has fine details, such as the sleek set-in waistline and wide orslet suede belt. Its simple high neckline and short sleeves with just the right fullness at the shoulders, are other good points.

It may be obtained in wool or acetate crepe, in black with red belt, Scotch mist with wine green with rust, rust with green or brown with chartreuse.

LOCAL ODDFELLOWS ENTERTAINED MONDAY

On Monday evening the brothers of Grimsby Lodge, No. 39, I. O. O. F., were again entertained. After a brief session of lodge, cochré was the order of the evening. Bro. William Aldrick was adjudged winner, with Bro. Roy St. John, P.G., a close second and Bro. E. LePage holding the short end of the score.

To conclude a well-spent evening a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. G. W. Crittenden and daughter, Miss May Crittenden, and Mrs. McGowan.

The hosts of the evening were Bro. McGowan, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, who is now residing at Grimsby Beach, and Bro. George Crittenden P.

This is the second of a series of social evenings to be held during the winter months.

Next Monday night Bro. M. Lockhart, M.P., P.G.M., will be the guest of the lodge when another social evening will be held.

OBITUARY

Miss Frieda Irene Reinke

Many friends in Grimsby, where she was a former resident, were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Miss Frieda Irene Reinke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reinke, on Saturday last at her late residence, 27 Rosslyn avenue north, Hamilton. Miss Reinke, who contracted lobar pneumonia only a few days before her death, was born in Beverly township 36 years ago and when a girl moved with her parents to Ancaster where she lived for 14 years. Subsequently the family moved to Grimsby, and Stoney Creek before moving into Hamilton two years ago. She was a member of Delta Tabernacle, and was a popular member of the younger social set of Hamilton, having been well known in musical circles.

She leaves to mourn her passing, besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reinke, two sisters, Mrs. Clifford Ode of Galt and Mrs. Lyle Beckett in Tillsonburg; four brothers, Harold of Toronto and Albert, Howard and Russell of Hamilton.

An unusually large number of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the service, which was held at the residence on Tuesday afternoon and accompanied the funeral cortege to Stoney Creek cemetery, where interment was made. Rev. H. L. Turner of Delta Tabernacle, assisted by Rev. J. W. Hunt of the United Church at Hespeler, officiated at the home and graveside. Numerous beautiful floral tributes attested to the high esteem in which the deceased young lady was held.

Acting as pallbearers were: Harry F. Hazell Joseph E. Piott, Dr. Harry Granger, John E. Milne, Ellis H. Corman and John Wylie.

Eastern Star Elect Officers

Grimsby Chapter No. 195, Order of the Eastern Star, held its regular meeting in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening with Worthy Matron Sister Mildred Jacobs in the chair.

One candidate was given the degrees and the election of officers was held as follows: Worthy Matron, Sister Lillie Craig; Worthy Patron, Bro. David Cloughley; Associate Matron, Sister Alda Van-Merve; Secretary, Sister Janet Flett; Treasurer, Sister Marguerite I. Farrell; Conductress, Nora Chambers; Associate Conductress, Sister Ethel Wray; Trustees, Bro. David Cloughley, P.P.; Bro. Frank Hitchman, P.P.; Sister Inez Cloughley, P.M.; Auditors, Sister Laura Mogg P.M.; Sister Rose Harris, Sister Anne Culp.

The Chapter decided to hold a Christmas party. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by the committee in charge and a social hour spent.

BRIDGE CLUB

An open bridge under the auspices of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E. was held in the Chapter room on Monday afternoon, there being four tables in play. The prize for high score was presented to Mrs. Leslie J. Farrell. At the close of the game dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames C. Bell, A. W. Fick-meier and Allan Smith.

RANDOM RANTS AND RUMORS ... Met William Alexander Fry, the Dean of Dun-ville, in Sam Manson's Sports Toggery Shanty, in Hamilton on Monday Pe-Em, and the old warrior is certainly the picture of health. He has a sparkle in his eye like champagne, and a peach bloom to his cheeks that would do credit to Hollywood. ... The death of Jimmy Whyte, in Toronto hospital, on Thursday evening last, was a terrific blow to sportdom in this district.
Jimmy was not only a clever sports writer on the St. Catharines Standard, but a real worker in the sports field in the Thorold district. It was Jimmy who was the real power behind the erection of the Thorold arena and also other sport projects in the Mountain town. His loss will be felt for a long time. ... Coach Bob Hillier injected something into Rennie Russ' Beach team on Saturday night and they handed the Salt-fleet O.R.H.A. champions their first defeat, in two seasons. That it was a hectic struggle is borne out by the fact that it cost Ronnie $7. for doctor's fees. ... Had Peach Kings shown a little of that Beach fighting spirit on Friday night, Port Inco might not have gone home with a scalp on their belt. ... Peach Pits' new white bodied, red trimmed sweaters are a smart looking garment. Scotty MacKay and the Dominion Construction Co. provided the outfits. ...
If ever a team had to go into battle with their backs against the wall and their game percentage at zero, it will be the Peach Kings, on Friday night, when they clash in the local ice house, with the Thorold Mounties. But you can take it from me, that they are going into action with all the will in the world to win. All this outfit needs is to start to click and when they do look out. ... George Marr and Cammy Millyard attended the Jimmy Whyte funeral on Sunday. ... Among the many beautiful floral tributes to the late Jimmy Whyte was a large wreath of red and white roses from the Peach Kings. ... Here's one for the little red book. Hawkeye Swayze, with Tourn team in the Gold Belt league, is now known as "Zero". His number on the team is "0".

Local Kid Teams Both Went Into Action Tuesday Night
— Large Crowd of Fans
Well Pleased.

Taking Tuesday night's attendance as a basis, it certainly looks as if "Tuesday Night is Hockey Night" in Grimsby. Peach Pits and the Independents staged their first double-header game of the season and the large number of fans present showed plainly that kids' hockey is popular in the town and district.
Appearing for the first time under their new sponsors, The Independents made a right smart showing. It was the first time that this bunch of kids had ever been together in public, but they showed enough to satisfy the railbirds and to make coach Dyke Lawson confident that he has a real team in his class.
Peach Pits Win 3-2
All decked out in their new uniforms, Ernie Mason's Peach Pits gave due notice to all and sundry, that they are headed for the championship of the Ontario Juvenile Association.
Winn scored both counters for the visitors, one in the first and the other in the third frame. Filce netted two of the Pits goals and Dyke one.
The team line-ups were:
Peach Pits—Goal, Shenker; defense, Rooker and Markey; centre, Roland; wings, Dyck and Cass;
subs, Juhlke, Carpenter, Mason, Selby, Taylor and Smith.
City Milk—Goal, Pendelbury; defense, Carr and Vollick; centre, Winn; wings, Riley and Walsh;
subs, Prince, Jackson, Brown, Morley, Shaw, Cline and Martin.
Referee—Dyke Lawson.
Silvers—Goal, Ambrose; defense,
Thornton, Chewter; centre, Mas-ton; wings, McIndoe, Beaudoin;
subs, Berryman, Ashmore, Atlas,

Independents—Goal, Farrell; defense, Ferris, Hills; centre, Warner; wings, Winters, Craig; subs, Bernardo, H. Hills, Miller, Neal,
Reid, Boyd, Lucey, Mason, Rooker, Sibbick, Mino.
Referees—Les Farrell, Benny Heaslip.

PEACH KINGS DEFEATED
IN TWO LEAGUE GAMES

Go Down Before Port Colborne Incos By 4-2 Score — St.
Kitts Macs Give Them a 4-0 Beating — Robertson
Starred in Both Games — Concessi of Incos Best Man on the Ice.

FRIDAY'S GAME MONDAY'S GAME

It's a good thing for Grimsby
Peach Kings that Alliance Paper
Co. of Thorold, did not take Bobby Robertson away from town, to play
St. Catharines Industrial league hockey.

Without Bobby out there on the frozen waters on Friday night,
Clyde Near and his Port Colborne Incos, would have taken the arena home with them, let alone the game. At that they had a tough time pulling out a 4-2 win, thanks to Fatima Best, the big behemoth from Winona, who only plays hockey because he gets a laugh out of it.

The big boy got mad in the second period, when he observed from his back seat position, behind the blue line, that all was not well with the front line sharpshooters and sashayed out and grabbed two tallies for the Kings in the period of one minute. Thanks Fat.

For an opening group game, it was the best that has graced Geo.
Marr's polar pie factory in seven years, and the only fly in the ointment was a guy named Concessi and ten other fellows from Port Colborne. This gangling legged Concessi looks like he might be a hockey player. At least he showed spasms of it in the first period when he almaned lefted around the back of the goal and shoved the biscuit into the net, despite all the lone efforts of Robertson to stop him. Then again at the 15 minute mark he stood in position in front of the net while all the Kings and half their supporters were battling Roy in the corner, and when Roy slipped the puck out into the clear he grabbed it and little Rob Roy Robertson had as much chance to save the situation as the German's had at Vimy Ridge.

After Best had tied the game up in the second period, Hoffman handed Morrison a pass in a scramble and he nicked number three for the Incos, at the 13 minute mark.
This second period was the best hockey of the night.
For about 10 or 12 minutes in this stanza, the Kings acted as if they knew what hockey stick was made for. Then the mental aberration attack took hold again.

In the third and final act of the evening, play went for 15 minutes before Gordon snared a puck off Fat's stick and rammed it home.
There was a lot of GOOD frog pond hockey played by both teams in this frame.

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO JIMMY WHYTE
About 2,000 persons paid final tribute Sunday to Jimmy Whyte, 30, sports writer and Thorold correspondent of the St. Catharines Standard, who died in hospital at Toronto Thursday after an operation. Funeral services were held at the home of his parents and St.
Andrew's Church.
Rev. Jason Graham, pastor of St.
Andrew's Church, and in charge of the service, held under Masonic auspices, said: "Never have I been called upon to conduct a funeral service for one so young who, by his stern uprightness of character, has won his place in the hearts of so many of his fellows. The moral influence of his life will not only be remembered by those who play the game, but will remain their standard."
Members of the Thorold Amateur Athletic Association formed a guard of honor and sportmen and newspapermen from various parts of the Province were among those who attended the service.

Karakas Again Guarding Hawks' Net

MIKE KARAKAS
The Chicago Black Hawks, under Coach Bill Stewart, have young Mike Karakas back in the nets for them again this year. Mike first came to the Hawks when Lorne Chabot, their regular goalie, was out with injuries. Karakas did such a fine job of stopping flying rubber that Chabot never regained his old position.

SALTFLEET BEATEN
BY BEACH TEAM

Scores in the Niagara Peninsula group, O.R.H.A. games played at Grimsby on Saturday night were:
Grimsby Beach, 5; Saltfleet 2; Vineland, 4; Smithville, 0.

Saltfleet's loss was their first in a league game for two years.
Shakeshaft and Doucette were forced out of the game through injuries and Clare Lee was also cut on the face. Lynch and Hayhurst scored for Saltfleet, while Scott netted two and Doucette, Cosby and Mochenski one each for Grimsby Beach.

In the Vineland-Smithville fix-ture, the Smithville crew was completely outplayed. For the winners, Hibbett tallied in the opener, W.
McKenzie in the second, Rubel and
A. Tufford in the third.

B. & D. LEAGUE

Saturday afternoon's scores in the four Beamsville and District league games played here were:
Chuck's Wonders 5, Fairview 3; Vineland 3, Silverdale 1; Lower
Thirty 5, Campden 4; Beamsville
4, Jordan 1. Beamsville and Vineland are now well in the lead, with five points each. Next in line is Chuck's Wonders with three points, while Jordan has 2½.

All goals in the Chuck's Wonders-Fairview game came in the final period, when no less than eight counters were registered. The Lower Thirty v. Campden tilt was tied twice and was in doubt till Johnston put the Thirty one up just before the final gong sounded.
The other two games were never in doubt, the winners leading all the way in both.

MUDCATS ARE SHORT
OF GOOD MATERIAL

(By Bill VanKuren, in Dunnville Gazette)
With the hockey season just around the corner the lack of material for the Mudcats in the intermediate ranks is a topic these days considerable interest. And because all doubts the Mudcats are plainly in need of a few players bolster up their sadly depleted ranks. With no imports on hand and no juniors coming up to help out, the intermediate hockey team finds itself in a sad predicament.
What is the cause of all this? Why all the scarcity of material to bolster the team? Why no players of any calibre? The answer is very simple—Lack of foresight.

Curved lines are used architecture, as they are to ward off evil spirits.

Within Our Churches

Trinity United Church

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in Trinity Church at the morning service next Sunday. The minister will take as his theme, "Behold the Lamb of God." Members are urged to be present at this service of fellowship and communion with our Lord.

At the evening service there will be a quarter-hour of familiar hymns followed by a study of the message of the well-known hymn, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." A cordial welcome is extended to all. Preparatory service will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

St. John's Presbyterian Church

Sunday, December 12th — The regular Communion service will be held on Sunday morning. The evening service will be in charge of the Young People of the Church. The minister, Rev. I. B. Kaine, will preach on the subject, "Pay No Attention to Destructive Criticism."

Reception of new members and Preparatory service on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Niagara Church Re-opens Sunday

St. Andrew's Anglican First Erected in 1794—Burned in 1812—Now Restored to Original State.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Niagara-on-the-Lake, looks forward to the re-opening of their church on Sunday, December 12th, following complete restoration, re-furnishing in part, redecoration within and without, and the installation of a modern heating system. The old pews, box pews draped as in early days for communion service, table pews and slip pews, have been retained.

This work is progressing under the direction of Professor Arthur of the Department of Architecture, University of Toronto. Funds for this extensive work have been supplied by Mr. Thomas Foster of Toronto, a former mayor, to the amount of $8,000. Already the Manse, one hundred years old, has been renovated and a new heating system installed, the whole gift of Mr. J. P. Bickie, the cost being $1,500. The dignified Colonial rooms with their old-time inside shutters, six fireplaces and mantles, gems of early architecture, are now most attractive.

The first church was erected in 1794, and was destroyed by fire in 1812 during the War. A hall was then built and served as a meeting place during the restoration, following the war. In 1831 the present building was erected and is regarded by the Department of Architecture of the University of Toronto as the finest piece of Colonial Architecture in the Dominion. Elaborate preparations are being made for the re-opening, the services to occupy two Sundays, December 12th and 19th. Rev. Dr. Inkster of Knox Church, Toronto, will be the preacher for the 12th, his morning subject being Presbyterian Fellowship, and the evening, The Greatest Need of Young People.

On the morning of December 19th, communion will be dispensed, and in the evening, conducted by Rev. Austin L. Budge, Clerk of Hamilton Presbytery, an "Old-time Presbyterian service will be held."

The congregation extends a hearty welcome to friends far and near to join the pilgrimage to this Presbyterian Shrine of St. Andrew's, Niagara-on-the-Lake. Many distinguished visitors are expected. It is hoped the Moderator of the General Assembly, Dr. Hugh Munroe, will be present. His Honor, Lieut. Gov. Bruce, has signified his acceptance of the invitation. Others expected are the Hon. T. B. McQueen, Dr. Cody, President of Toronto University, and Professor Arthur, Architect in charge and other University Professors.

The Golden Text

I John 1:3—"Our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ."

Christian Fellowship

PREVIEW ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Dec. 12 is I John 1:1-7 and Revelation 21:1-7, the Golden Text being I John 1:3, "Our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.")

AT THE creation of man Jehovah, his Creator said, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a help-meet for him." Having been made in the image and likeness of God he was like God in that his nature called for fellowship through which he might express his love.

Our Lord Jesus recognized this need of fellowship when he "sent his disciples by two and two." The early church recognized the same in sending forth Barnabas and Saul, Paul and Silas, Barnabas and Mark, Peter and John, etc. This "knitting of the soul of Jonathan with the soul of David" is an expression of one of the most deep-seated and universal characteristics of human nature. And our Lord was so thoroughly human that he shared this trait with us. So we hear him saying to his disciples "with desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer"; and again, "my soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death; abide ye here and watch with me." As Son of God he enjoyed fellowship with his Father from eternity. John says, "That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we have heard, and our hands handled of the word of life. And the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us."

Our Lord's eternal fellowship with his Father, which he extended to include his first disciples is still further broadened to include all who will accept it through faith in him: "That ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ." The privilege of such a fellowship should move us to want to fit ourselves for it by bringing our lives into harmony with the Divine: "In him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth; but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin." Continual striving after holiness must result from our desire for fellowship with God. To be with him is to be like him. Fellowship begets likeness. Light has an affinity for light and darkness for darkness. Fellowship with the good will strengthen the good within us. So Christ established his church for the strengthening effect of its fellowship upon his disciples.

Eternal Fellowship
Death does not destroy this fellowship. It persists beyond the grave in the church triumphant: "He shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God; and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. Behold I make all things new."

I'm Calling You

I am the best friend of mankind. To the man who prizes sanity, peacefulness, pure-mindedness, social standing and longevity, I am a necessity.

I am hung about with sweet memories—memories of brides—memories of mothers—memories of boys and girls—memories of the aged as they grope their way down the shadows.

I am decked with loving tears—crowned by happy hands and hearts.

In the thins of the greatest men of earth, I find a constant dwelling place.

I live in the lives of the young and in the dreams of the old.

I safeguard man through all his paths—from the first hour life's sun alants upon his footprints until the purple gathers in the west and darkness falls.

I lift up the fallen. I strengthen the weak. I help the distressed. I show mercy, bestow kindness and offer a friendly hand to the man in purple and fine linen and the man in homespun.

I am the essence of good fellowship, friendliness and love.

I give gifts that gold cannot buy, nor kings take away. They are given freely to all that ask.

I bring back the freshness of life, the eagerness, the spirit of youth which feels that it has something to live for ahead.

I meet you with outstretched arms and with songs of gladness. Some time—some day—some hour—in the near future, you will earn for the touch of my friend's hand.

I am your comforter and your best friend.

I'm calling you!

I Am The Church
The Bride of Christ.
The Body of Christ.
The Voice of Christ.

Christian Fellowship

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—I John 1:1-7; Revelation 1:1-7.

John, "the disciple Jesus loved," enjoyed the closest fellowship with Jesus. He says, "That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us."

Of this fellowship John says, "Our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ... If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in darkness, we lie."

In his old age as an exile on the Isle of Patmos, St. John was given a vision of the continuance of this fellowship in "a new heaven and a new earth."

From God's throne he heard a voice saying, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them... and God himself shall be with them." (GOLDEN TEXT—I John 1:3)

Peninsula Notes

An increase in customs and excise collections for November of $78,831 over the same month last year is reported today by Collector J. Colin Blain, of St. Catharines. The revenue for the past month was $244,108 and for November, 1936, $165,348.

Welland city will build a new Hydro sub-station at a cost of $35,000.

Hanson Theatres Ltd., will build a new theatre in St. Catharines, at a cost of $200,000.

Sam Stone, 19, Hamilton, was sentenced to two years and three months in Kingston penitentiary, at Niagara Falls, when he pleaded guilty to theft of a doll covered with 25 one dollar bills in a local window. The doll was a prize and the window was smashed with a brick. He also pleaded guilty to theft of a car and a bag containing a silver bowling trophy. On the latter charges he was sentenced to a year on each, concurrent with the other sentence.

The last of the swing bridges over the old Welland canal has been torn down.

The first eviction in Merriton's history occurred Saturday morning. All the furniture in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Darlow, 15 Ball avenue, was being moved out onto the sidewalk by Sheriff Fred J. Graves and his men. While other evictions have taken place in Merriton, the occupants of the houses in each case in the past have heeded the warning and have vacated the house of their own accord. This is the first time in the 30 years of Chief S. A. Moffatt of the police force that he has been present at such an incident as happened Saturday morning.

THIRTY MOUNTAIN

Miss Mary Lounsbury of Smithville has been staying the past week with her sister Mrs. Penfield who has been confined to the house through illness.

The Thirty Mt. Church are holding their Christmas tree December 23rd and the Public School December 21st. All welcome.

Mr. Wm. Kemp and Ashley Elliott spent Sunday in Dundas visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kemp.

Maitland Muir, who spent the past six months with Egbert Hurst left to accept a position in Welland port, and Arthur Priddle has taken "Mate's" place.

Mr. R. Potter and Miss Theim Foad spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Penfield.

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Carson and Mrs. R. Mackey will be pleased to know they are improving.

Wm. Procyshyn of Orillia spent Saturday at his home here. Miss Nettie returned with him to visit Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Penley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Millward Ruth and Lyle, of Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Millward of Hamilton Beach, called on Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hurst and Mrs. C. F. Millward on Sunday.

Accidents And Compensation

There were 6,629 accidents reported to The Workmen's Compensation Board during the month of November, as compared with 6,556 during October, and 5,567 during November a year ago.

The total benefits awarded during November amounted to $542,833.33, of which $431,330.24 was for compensation and $111,503.09 for medical aid.

This year's record to date shows a total of 64,854 accidents reported, as compared with 55,938 during the same period last year, and the benefits awarded to date this year amount to $5,557,403.90, as against $4,936,223.23 to the end of November last year.

After having the purposes of a game-controlled area described by M. C. Lamore, provincial game overseer for Lincoln county at its meeting last week, the Gainsboro township council is taking the necessary steps to make application to the department of game and fisheries to have the municipality proclaimed such an area.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Vickers and little son, Ridge Road, were Sunday visitors at Wm. Duck's.

The Christmas meeting of the Grassie W. I. is being held at Miss R. Thomas' home on Thursday afternoon of this week. We extend our sincere sympathy to the president, Mrs. Herbert Beamer, whose brother, George Southward, was instantly killed at Winona last week.

COMPANY PROTECTS TRADE MARK

The Bayer Company Limited having brought actions to restrain infringement of its registered trade mark "Aspirin" the Exchequer Court of Canada has given judgment against its five defendants. In each case the Exchequer Court perpetually restrains the defendants from using the trade mark "Aspirin" on preparations put out by themselves and awards the Bayer Company costs and damages. "Aspirin" is the trade mark of The Bayer Company, Limited, Windsor, Ontario.

had been able to pick up without actually studying. When the first Parliament of Upper Canada met at Niagara in 1792 with about seven members, James Clark was the first clerk, he said. Pointing to a handsome walnut writing desk in one corner of the room Mr. Bradt said, "and there is the desk upon which the first laws of this country were written—it was one of the articles of furniture saved when they were fired by the Americans in the War of 1812." Closer examination of the desk proved it to be a truly marvellous example of the early cabinet maker's work. Not a single nail holds it together, every joint being dovetailed. Mr. Bradt opened the desk and honored the reporter by allowing him to write upon it.

"After the parliament buildings were burned in Niagara they moved to York (Toronto) and from 1813 to 1818 my mother's brother, James W. O. Clark, carried the mail from Niagara to York," Mr. Bradt explained. "He travelled by horseback, with a sack over his shoulder, and it took him three days to go and three days to come back, following the lake shore. The trip was made once a week." James Clark was then about 18 or 20, Mr. Bradt said.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY HAS DOUBLE ESCORT

From the (ABOVE) photograph it is difficult to figure which of the two very presentable young men is escorting lovely Dorothy Lamour to the premiere showing of "Hurricane" at Hollywood. If "Casanova" McCarthy is escorting Miss Lamour then we can readily see why Edgar Bergen is along, for without him the dummy would be speechless. However, if Mr. Bergen is doing the honors then apparently McCarthy is being a "gooseberry". Anyway you look at it both the gentlemen are lucky indeed.

trip was made once a week." James Clark was then about 18 or 20, Mr. Bradt said.

Bent on displaying another priceless treasure, Mr. Bradt hunted through a cupboard filled with antiques and finally returned with an old-fashioned muzzle-loader flintlock musket. On one side of the stalk it bore the date 1807 and a stamp of the American eagle. "This musket was seized from a pile which was being burned up by Indians after the battle of Queenston Heights," Mr. Bradt explained. "My father's brother, Uriah Bradt, led a band of Indians known as scouts and after the battle a great pile of these muskets were abandoned because the regular soldiers were not allowed to take them. The Indians were lighting a fire to burn them when my uncle snatched this one from the flames."

Urged to tell something of his own history, Mr. Bradt evaded all questioning and sidetracked to an account of the history of his home in which he was born on October 18, 1844.

The house is a typical example of its day, having been built by Mr. Bradt's father, Peter Bradt III, two years before Mr. Bradt was born. Practically all the material for the house was produced right on the farm. The brick was made from lime burned at home, the lumber came from trees hewn and sawn at the Bradt sawmill, while practically all the labor was done by one man. It took almost a year to complete the inside trimming alone, explained Mr. Bradt.

Mr. Bradt is remarkably well preserved for one of his age. Although he takes no active part in farming any more, nevertheless he directs all activity and conducts his own business affairs. A fact of which he is very proud is that he has never yet been under the care of a doctor. He possesses a rare sense of humor and to the stereotyped question, "To what age do you expect to live?" Mr. Bradt answered, "I expect to reach 150, anyway." He said he believed his long life had come from being jolly and living a good honest life.

Exemplifying his keen wit and his knowledge of up-to-date affairs, Mr. Bradt related the following anecdote: "A young woman was here to see me a few days ago trying to buy some of my antiques, but after I told her I didn't wish to part with any I asked her why she didn't divorce her husband, like Mrs. Simpson did, and then set her cap for me. I told her I was a widower and that sooner or later she would get all my antiques."

LEARNING THEIR TRADES UNDER GOVERNMENT SPONSORSHIP

Given an opportunity to learn trades through Ontario government projects under the Dominion-provincial youth training movement, the young men pictured here are making excellent use of their tuition period. The movement is jointly sponsored by federal and provincial parliaments as a means of preparing unemployed youths for profitable positions in industry. The young man at the RIGHT is gathering his knowledge in a Brantford, Ont., moulding plant while at the RIGHT, age and youth meet to coordinate their knowledge and abilities in a machine shop. The tutor in this case is a farm machinery firm's veteran employee.

VEGETABLE GROWERS TALK OVER TARIFF

Officials of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association met in Toronto on Tuesday to discuss the effect of possible further Canadian tariff reductions.

Speakers at the meeting said that employment of more than 100,000 Ontario workers may be endangered if unfair concessions are granted in the proposed trade treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

"We are advising our branches and members to make no contracts for supplies or machinery for the coming year until they have received assurance from the authorities in Ottawa that no further reductions in tariff will be made," S. Atkins, Leamington, told the meeting.

Obituary

George M. Southward

There was a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives in attendance at the funeral of the late George Methias Southward, which was held on Saturday afternoon from his late residence, Beaumont Road, Stoney Creek, with interment in Stoney Creek cemetery. Adjutant A. E. Waters of the Salvation Army assisted by Rev. Griffin Thompson, had charge of the service.

The pallbearers were: Fletcher Brand, Joseph Bowstead, John Purcell, Albert Tillotson, John Farrell and Robert MacGeorge.

TOWN HAS PAID OFF $100,000 DEBENTURES

"Georgetown is now on its feet again," Mayor Joseph Gibbons announced last week, making public the town's financial statement.

"Not in a score of years have the town's outstanding liabilities been as low as they are at the present time," he declared. "During the past seven years the town has paid off $100,000 of debentures, and issued only $800 in that time."

MEN'S CLUB HERE

(discourse, used the gorgeous colour and symbolism of his Church windows as seen from within to illustrate the importance of being in the church, not outside of it, but by some inadvertence the sermon was delivered in the evening, when the colours are reserved. But as the speaker showed, an illustration had been given of the function of the Church in sending its light and influence out into the world.

In touching upon the place of the Lectern in the church service, Dr. Leckie spoke of the use made in the Church of England of the books which had been excised from the Bible by the Westminster Divines, and brought to memory a series of incidents linked with a monument in the grounds of Balmoral Castle in honour of Prince Albert in one of which incidents he himself had had a part.

A part of the address also was devoted to the Nicene Creed as this great document stands in the Communion service of the Church of England, the lecturer first of all dealing with it in an eminently serious manner, and then introducing some strange episodes in the career of the saint who had had the chief part in the framing of this statement of doctrine. Throughout the address the plan of the speaker was to mingle grave with gay, and each theme touched upon was presented in this two-fold manner.

As an aside, towards the close of the evening, and in view of the use made of the Tobacco pipe, by members of the club, the speaker gave a curious versified narrative of the first appearance of the Tobacco plant in the Eastern world, as this is preserved in the Arabian legend of Mohammed's encounter with a serpent, and the outcome of his kindness to that fellow creature. And the lecture closed with a reference to a certain English belfry clock, and its quaint Latin inscription, four Latin words being expanded into five English stanzas on the wounds inflicted by the passing hours upon the day, and the death which midnight brings. Refreshments and conversation in the basement concluded a profitable evening.
